INCREASING THE RATE OF EMPLOYMENT

There is currently a 41% employment gap between people with and without disabilities who are of working age.¹ Too many people with disabilities who want to work are unemployed or underemployed!

In what ways do you work to intentionally address the low rate of employment for people with disabilities?

ADVANCING COMPETITIVE INTEGRATED EMPLOYMENT (CIE)

The 2014 passage of the Workforce Innovation & Opportunity Act (WIOA) established a clear directive for state education, workforce development and vocational rehabilitation systems to work together to advance competitive, integrated employment (CIE) outcomes for people with disabilities.²

What are your thoughts on how to ensure that WIOA implementation effectively advances competitive integrated employment outcomes for people with disabilities?

What is CIE?

Competitive
Employees with disabilities are paid at least minimum wage and earn the same as their coworkers without disabilities

Integrated
Job opportunities are available in the community in settings that are inclusive of both people with and without disabilities

Employment
A person with a disability is able to apply for available jobs and is hired to work in the general labor market.

ENSURING REAL WAGES FOR REAL WORK

Since 1938, the Fair Labor Standards Act creates a legal avenue for people with disabilities to be paid less than the Federal minimum wage through the use of 14c certificates.

In 2019, there are two pieces of legislation aimed at eliminating the continued use of 14c, including the Raise the Wage Act³ (HR 582/S 150) and the Transformation to Competitive Employment Act⁴ (HR 873/S 260).

Have you co-signed these bills?
What is your position on subminimum wage for people with disabilities?
What are your ideas for elevating wages for people with disabilities?
