

Robert (Mississippi)

I have been holding my job at the Institute for Disability Studies for 5 years now. One of my favorite duties is video editing/producing for my YouTube Series Chit Chat Thursday with Taylor.

“My advice is to keep looking as the holidays are coming and many places are offering limited seasonal positions that can lead to being hired full-time. Keep working hard to prove to yourself and your peers that you that you can do this.”

I have autism so the pandemic has been challenging as it has changed my routine and structure of how I normally get things done.

The constant emails to each staff member instead of physical communication has really helped me. The struggle to get a job during this time of Covid-19 is at an all-time high as many are unemployed.

Are you interested in starting an APSE chapter in Mississippi?

Contact APSE

info@apse.org

Celebrating National Disability
Employment Awareness Month!

We salute essential workers!